

Special Evening Presentation
“Making Music”

Friday, November 6th, at 7 p.m.

Musician and Composer John Norman Stewart entertains us with the same piano magic he used when performing in many top movie and television series throughout his impressive musical career.

(John Norman Stewart, on the job)

Making music is exactly what artist / musician / composer John Norman Stewart does so well. Influenced by musical greats Errol Garner & Bill Evans, John spent 60 years playing piano in various venues in the L.A. area. He also played side-line piano in top movies, such as “The Way We Were,” and top TV series such as “Mannix,” and “Roots II.” Enjoy John’s vibrant versions of Swing era standards, melodic show tunes, gospel, classic film scores, and jazz improvisations. Join us for this fascinating evening of music, enlivened with some of John’s interesting “back stories” about the music and the movies and the places where he played.

On the FIRST FRIDAY of every month the Orland Art Center continues its tradition of providing a wonderful variety of social events throughout the year. These events are provided FREE to the public.
