Orland City Council Reorganizes with Three New Members, Selects Mayor

The first order of business at last night's Orland City Council meeting was to certify official final results of the recent election, recognize outgoing councilmembers, and seat three newly elected councilmembers: Terrie Barr, Brandon Smith and JC Tolle.

The five-member council then nominated and voted among itself for the roles of mayor and vice mayor for the coming year. Mathew "Matt" Romano was elected mayor, and JC Tolle as vice mayor.

Mayor Romano said, "I appreciate the opportunity over the next year to work with the city council, staff and the citizens of Orland to continue to make Orland a wonderful city to be a part of and raise a family in. I have always considered it an honor and a privilege to say I'm from Orland."

Outgoing councilmembers are Bruce T. Roundy who served since 2008 as councilmember, vice mayor and mayor; Chris Dobbs who completed one four-year term, the most recent two years as mayor; and Jeffrey A. Tolley who completed one term with one year as vice mayor.

Following the reorganization, the meeting proceeded as outlined on the planned agenda. The public works, engineering and administration department directors provided informational annual presentations. Business included approval of co-funding an assessment study regarding Pioneer Community Energy; approval of a new training & retention policy for the public works department; award of contract to a new CPA for financial consulting; and direction to city staff about the in-process downtown streetscape project.
